

The Malcolm Spreckley Memorial Auction

On the 23rd October 2010, our dear friend and co-trustee, Malcolm Spreckley died, having battled cancer for some time. He had a heart for Ghana, and specifically for those we had worked amongst on our visits. So much so that he bequeathed many of his tools to the TRUST, so that they might be sold and the money used for a cause dear to his heart in that land.

It was Malcolm's wish that the proceeds would be used by the charity. In order to ensure that a reasonable amount is raised, the trustees have decided to post a reserve on some of the items. This figure will be of between 10 and 50% the retail value of a new item of the same type as the item on offer. The exact amount depends on the condition of the item, as those with more wear and tear will be at the 10% mark and those in better condition will be closer to the upper mark. In this way we can be assured of raising a realistic amount, while at the same time offering good bargains for those who will support Malcolm's cause. Many of the items have been researched to ascertain the cost of that item if bought new today. It is appreciated that some of these items may be found cheaper if one shops around, but this is intended as a guide only. There are a few where we have two values, where retailers offer a wide range of prices for the same item. Items with a reserve will have ® in the right hand column.

To view the items on line, then please go to the website at:

www.coxfamilychristiantrust.org

If you would like to bid, then please mark on a piece of paper (on an email), your name, telephone number and address, the lot number with brief description and the maximum amount you wish to bid against any specific lot. If your bid is successful, you will win the lot in question. You can bid on any amount of lots.

Should you wish to contact us by telephone, then please call 07904 129609 between 09:00 and 21:00.

Items with a reserve will have ® in the right hand column.
